

I Met My Love in Bermondsey

I met my love in Bermondsey
so many years ago;
we raised our son and daughter here
and so we call it home.

There's so much to see in Bermondsey:
the river, parks and boats;
so many views to gaze at;
so many dogs to stroke.

We love the food of Bermondsey:
cafés, restaurants and bars.
The coffee's great, the beer sublime and the cake's the best by far.

There's so much to do in Bermondsey while hanging out with friends;
from the Arts Club to the market and to Millwall at The Den!

There's a rich culture in Bermondsey because our people are diverse – yet we all come close together in this little patch of Earth.

There's community in Bermondsey like nowhere else we've been;
it's a village in the city
– the best place we've ever seen.

We fell in love with Bermondsey and never went away.
Everyone who comes here
always wants to stay.
